Thank you for your interest in Global Affairs.
We proudly present our 2019/20 Catalogue!

This catalogue includes our entire collection. You may notice that all our knitted dolls received a makeover, and we developed some new ones too.

We are happy to introduce several other new items. For example, our successful Woodland series now also includes some cool crochet dolls and rattles, and the accessories have been extended with cute wool felt necklaces and brooches, new girls bags, fruit- and vegetable necklaces and 3D animal necklaces.

For the little (and big) food lovers we have added a new line of colourful bamboo plates and cups.

We hope that you will enjoy going through the pages of our catalogue and if you are interested in a pricelist, feel free to contact us.

However, this always stays within our margins and a product will never leave the workplace without our approval. The only thing that doesn't change is the safety of all our toys, which meet the highest safety standards (see below).

When viewing a Global Affairs product, we invite you to reflect on all people who have put so much love and effort into its creation. We hope you enjoy our collection.

Licences and Collabs

We cooperate with the well-known Dutch designer Christian Borstlap (www.partofabiggerplan.com). He designed the beautiful Plentimals collection, which is now complemented with four newly designed bamboo cups and plates.

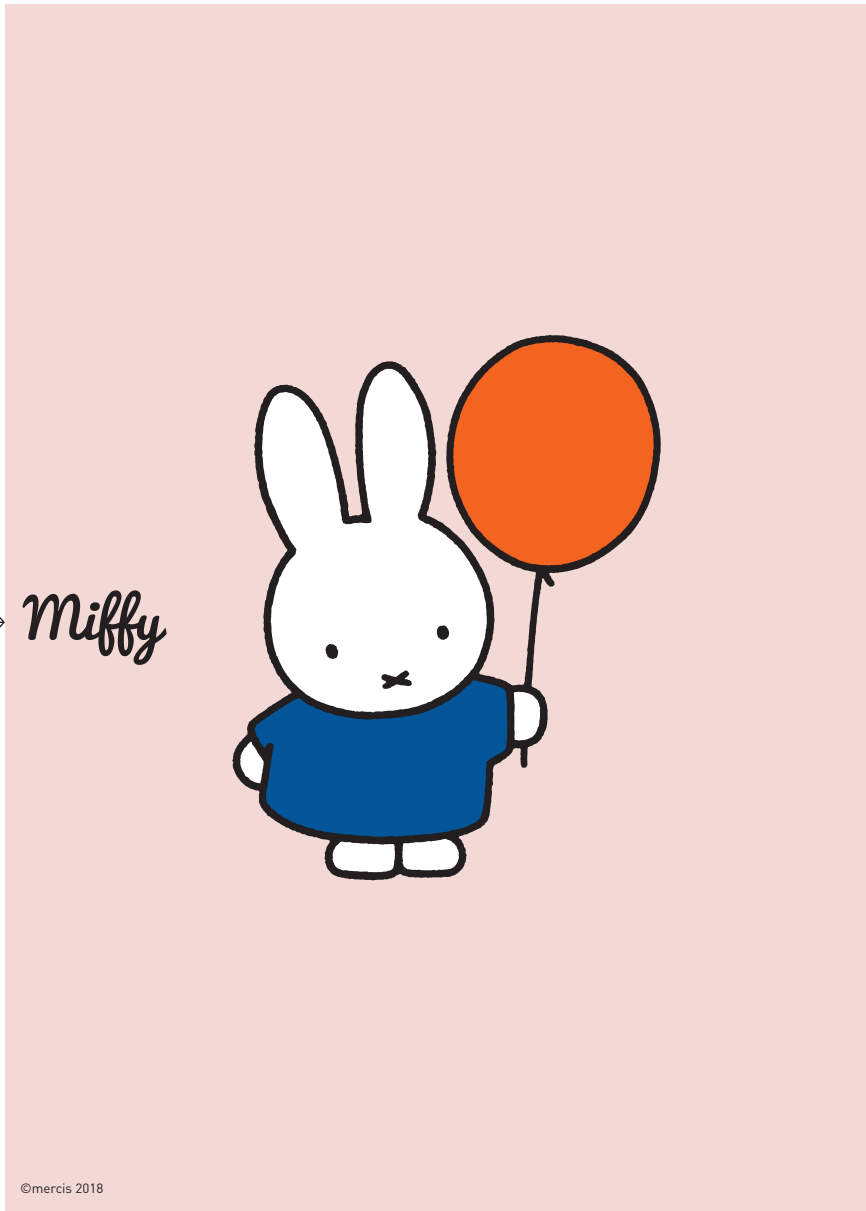

The young Dutch brand Makii created the fantastic and imaginative bamboo tableware collection with cute animals; Spoon your soup with Mister Crocodile or have some pasta with Miss Rhino!

Together with our licence partners Mercis, Rubinstein and the Van Gogh Museum we develop colourful products based on famous persons and characters like Vincent Van Gogh and Miffy and stories as The Mouse Mansion and The Daily Fable.

The Mouse Mansion is originally built as décor in cardboard and paper-maché for a series of children's books. The books tell the stories of the little mice Sam and Julia. Together they discover the world and experience many adventures in the different rooms of the Mouse Mansion and beyond. The Mouse Mansion is created by Karina Schaapman.

Based on the main characters of the Mouse Mansion, Sam and Julia, Global Affairs created two rattles. The cotton rattles are handmade according to the Fairtrade principles.

The Daily Fable

Dutch production company Rubinstein Media brought the all-time classic children's series The Daily Fable (De Fabeltjeskrant) back to the screen. The Daily Fable was a highly successful TV series from the 60-ties to the 90-ties. Numerous Dutch and Belgian generations grew up watching the daily episodes. The series was sold to over 40 countries worldwide. Now, 50 years after the first episode was broadcast, the adventures of Mr. Owl and the other residents of the Fable Forest are brought back again to a wide international audience in cinemas and on home screens. Global Affairs is happy to be a partner in this project with hand-made dolls, keyrings and pins. Join us!

Makii

Makii was founded in 2013 by illustrators Idris van Heffen and Mielo Pouwer. By combining their talents, they create innovative products for children. Their collection consists of colouring books, sticker posters, and DIY books.

In collaboration with Global Affairs, Makii developed this colourful tableware. A sustainable and eco-friendly solution for anyone who is looking for an alternative to melamine. The cheerful colours, the characters and the bamboo material make a real party of every meal!

Crochet Keyring
Vincent Van Gogh

The Van Gogh Museum approached Global Affairs to develop a small children's collection for their museum shops. This resulted in approximately 15 items. The most successful ones are: the crochet Vincent doll, Vincent keyring and Sunflower rattle. All items are inspired by the works of Dutch painter Vincent van Gogh. All products are handmade according to Fairtrade principles. For fall 2019 we created 3 new items for their collection. Global Affairs has obtained a license to sell this merchandise to 3rd parties.

Global Affairs extended the range of Artist dolls. Apart from Vincent Van Gogh, we developed The Milkmaid of Vermeer and Rembrandt himself. The dolls are sold to various museums and boutique shops. In January 2020 the range will be extended by Frida Kahlo, Andy Warhol and Salvador Dali.

Customized

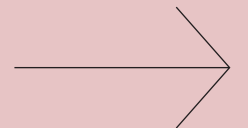

We love to collaborate with our partners. We enjoy designing our own collection, but we enjoy creating special items for other parties as much. There are many ways to work together. If you think one of our products could be a part of your own collection, but you would like a personalized packaging with your name and logo, we can do that. We can work with your design files or we can develop a packaging for you. You can also design a product of your own; you would first get a suggested design, from which we would develop the final product.

We love to hear your thoughts and preferences. We guide the whole process from the drawing board to the final product and we keep you informed throughout the entire process. Some of our partners are international museums like: The Rijksmuseum, The Van Gogh Museum, RMNGP, TATE Britain, Louis Vuitton, but we also develop children's collections for large retail stores.

An example of a recent retail collaboration is with Dille & Kamille (www.dille-kamille.nl). This is a sustainable Dutch retail chain (29 stores). For them we developed – now for the 2nd year – a part of their children collection. This consists of about 25 products in various fabrics and materials.

Our selected suppliers

Our suppliers are based in China, India, Sri Lanka and Peru. Most of our products are handmade. We only work with small scale producers. We work on a fair trade principle. We visit our producers on a regular basis in order to build and maintain a strong working relationship, based on dialogue, transparency and mutual respect. As a result, we have established long-term relationships with our most valuable suppliers (i.e. 10 years). Many of the companies we work with are led by women and most of the employees are also women. This leads to independence, which is essential in all countries, but especially in developing countries. Our suppliers are based in rural areas, which means the workers do not have to migrate to big cities for employment. They can care for their families and they do not have to work unfairly long hours or travel long distances. Many of the employees are farmers who work on the farm during the harvest season and work for our suppliers for the rest of the year. This provides them with a year-round income to support themselves and their families. All of our suppliers meet the standards for a safe working environment. Some have passed the BSCI audits, and others are in the progress of obtaining this certificate. We respect the norms and culture of our suppliers and their workers and try not to impose our own Western culture upon them.
